

Chapter 12: Romantic Interlude in Japan (1888)

Across

4. On April 13, 1888, Rizal boarded the _____, an English steamer.
 5. a Botanical Garden

Down

1. Shortly after Rizal's arrival in Tokyo, he was Visited at his hotel by _____
 2. the Japanese drama

9. Early in the Tuesday morning, February 28, 1888, Rizal arrived in _____
13. Resembles Rizal's Noli Me Tangere
14. Another passenger which Rizal befriended on board the Belgic; a fighting Japanese journalist, etc.
16. the Japanese art of self defense
18. During his first day in Tokyo, Rizal was embarrassed because he did not know the _____ language
19. daughter of O-Sei-San
20. a British Teacher of Chemistry of the Peer's School in Tokyo
3. In 1890 he was elected as a member of lower house of the _____, where he carried on his fight for human rights
6. in a letter to _____, he described the Spanish diplomat as "a young, fine, and excellent writer" etc.
7. Rizal affectionately called her O-Sei-San
8. the Japanese Language
10. wife of Mr. Reinaldo Turner(semi-Filipino family)
11. On March 7, Rizal checked out of Tokyo Hotel and lived at the _____
12. son of a Japanese senator,and was married to Yuriko
15. One cool afternoon on March 1888, Rizal was promenading in a street of Tokyo near a park, as he approach, Rizal heard the Tokyo band playing a classical work of _____
17. which similar to El Filibusterismo