

Lit. terms

Across

5. A person fighting against a robot is an example of _____
7. A way of speaking that is common to people in a particular region
9. Usually all good or all bad; doesn't change much; lack depth; static

Down

1. An ending to a section, chapter, or book that leaves the reader in suspense
2. Usually mixed good or bad; change significantly, have depth; active
3. When you are going against everyone, that is an example of _____
4. Man vs. zombies is an example of _____

12. the feeling or atmosphere that is created by a work of literature
13. a character or force in conflict with the protagonist
14. Batman vs. superman is an example of _____
16. the author interrupts the plot of the story to recreate an event of an earlier time
17. A contrast between what we expect will happen and what actually happens
18. lines spoken by characters in a story
6. hints or clues that suggest what will happen later in a story
8. Rouge wave is an example of _____
10. The problem
11. Your friend is going to do something you don't know if you should tell this is an example of _____
12. A character's reason for saying or doing something
15. The time and place of a story