

Neurosurgery 22

Across

5. - A cause of childhood epilepsy which is also the term for spaces that function in non-hegemony conditions
6. - One classification system for dural AVF
7. - The _____ petrosal sinus may be sampled to help with diagnosis of Cushing's disease
10. - A by-product of cerebral metabolism
12. - The ICP hypothesis was formulated by a surgeon and a physician from this country
14. - Sublingual _____ is useful in treating malignant hypertension if IV drugs cannot be used due to lack of central and arterial lines
15. - Saver et al. recently published in JAMA to show that endovascular thrombectomy in ischaemic stroke may be useful in up to _____ hours from symptom onset

Down

1. - The PATCH study suggested that spontaneous ICH patients on antiplatelets who received platelet transfusion had _____ outcome
2. - The condition that produces port-wine stain with seizures is a form of _____
3. - The main ingredient of Floseal
4. - CSF infusion study is based on this physics law
8. - This recent study suggested that decompressive craniectomy in TBI can save up to 22% of patients compared to medical therapy alone
9. - Disruption to the anterior choroidal artery may result in this symptom
11. - Babinski sign of the upper limb
13. - This part of the cerebellum is responsible for posture