

Paleolithic and Neolithic Era

Across

5. A wandering group of people who live chiefly by hunting, fishing, and harvesting wild food

Down

1. The process of concentrating on and becoming an expert in a particular subject or skill

7. Age, A period of human development characterized by the development of basic stone and tools
8. The number of people in a particular area,
10. Age, A period of human history between the Paleolithic Age and the Neolithic Age
12. A level of human development where people assist each other and live together peacefully in communities
14. A yellowish-brown metal alloy of copper with up to 1/3 tin
15. A skilled worker or talented craftsperson
2. Revolution, The widespread transition of humans from hunter-gatherer societies to farming settlements
3. The process of cultivating food or taming animals for human use
4. An amount of something left over (extra) after needs have been met.
6. Age, A period of human history characterized by the development of agriculture and the domestication of animals
9. A device or piece of equipment used to carry out a particular function and make life easier
11. A wanderer that does not have a permanent home or settlement
13. Knowledge put to practical use to solve problems or invent useful tools