

Surfing the web

Across

3. the state of being comfortable with yourself, with others, and with your surroundings
5. to stop someone from contacting you online
8. A word or phrase that you must type for access to an encrypted file
9. person who uses online tools to scare or threaten others
11. to place something on the internet
12. a piece of advice or useful information

Down

1. Choices a website or app might give you about what information is visible to other users and third parties.
2. against the law
4. websites and applications that enable users to create and share content or to participate in social networking.
6. to have or use something at the same time as someone else
7. an arrangement by which a user is given personalized access to a computer, website, or application, typically by entering a username and password.
10. a document that uses data from tables and/or queries; the user controls which items in the database will appear in the report and how it is filtered or sorted